

Moving Toward Sustainability™

Commercial Moving— Safe, Clean and Green

No more Masonite®. Differentiate yourself with superior, sustainable, green building protection.

Commercial movers face an array of challenges at every facility. But the top objectives are always the same—safely move the customer's items while protecting the buildings.

GreenDominion's GDoe products protect all kinds of building finishes during moves. GDoe floor boards and vertical panels safely protect all flooring types, walls, corners, doors, glass and elevators without producing any dirt, dust, debris or waste. And unlike Masonite and corrugated products, GDoe always looks new and professional and doesn't wear out. Simply attach our floor boards and our vertical panel protectors with our special tapes. Use our custom A-Frame carts to transport and store GDoe, ready for the next use. The longer you use GDoe, the more consumable costs you avoid. GDoe pays for itself in less than two years, plus you'll be able to reuse our protection products for a very long time.

Superior product... sustainable solution... better for your bottom line and the environment!

"It makes a difference to have green products for our sustainability-minded clients. I've spent tens of thousands of dollars on floor and wall protection only to have to repurchase it over and over. With GDoe, I have the peace of mind that it's here to last."
