Cleaner, Greener Building Protection for New Construction and Upfits

No more Masonite®. GDoe™ Floor Boards and Wall Panels provide superior building finish protection during all construction projects.

General contractors, builders and construction managers face a difficult task protecting building finishes during new construction, remodels, and upfits. Carpet and floors get dirty or damaged. Doors and walls suffer dings and scratches. And, since tenants may still be using the building, it's important to maintain a safe site and a professional image during active construction.

GreenDominion's green products help minimize the dirt, dust and potential damage of construction while still caring for the environment. GreenDominion's GDoe protects walls, floors, doors, elevators, corners and more. GDoe may even help achieve or maintain LEED credits.

You can win new bids by choosing GreenDominion's cost-competitive, earth-friendly building protection. Set your business apart with this professional product line, and avoid new costs—like Masonite—each time you use it.

“GDoe felt great under foot with no curling of edges or broken corners like traditional organic floor coverings. GDoe didn’t degrade a bit under the heavy load of my customer’s large equipment. ReloStrategy looks forward to educating our customers and vendors about the great products Green Dominion offers.”
